

MyAA Terms & Conditions

By registering with MyAA you agree that information provided by you can be stored to allow you to access your information, get quotes, retrieve your previous quotes, administer your AA products and view documentation applicable to your products.

Upon registering with MyAA your email address is required as part of your login and you will be asked to create your own personal password. For security purposes, these details must be provided on request, each time you access MyAA. You must keep your log in details confidential, please do not disclose these to any third party. You must notify the AA immediately should you suspect or know that your login details are known or available to an unauthorised person.

When accessing MyAA you undertake that to the best of your knowledge/belief any information provided is true and complete.

If providing information on behalf of someone else named on a quote, policy or product you confirm that you have their consent to do so.

If you provide a work email address we will not be responsible for third parties having access to any communications we may send.

Inappropriate use of MyAA will result in your access to MyAA being revoked.

Please note if you supply an email address to access and operate this MyAA account and that email address is also owned and / or accessed by another individual, if that individual also accesses and operates this MyAA account, all personal data including names addresses, bank details, policies, joint and individual will be viewable by all MyAA account owners. It is assumed that the other email addressee gives their ongoing permission for the sharing of their personal data in the MyAA account. All accommodation will be afforded by AA Ireland to those who are vulnerable where this is brought to our attention.